Le Marmette in graniglia Grit Floor tiles

Il Territorio The Area

San Severino Marche, ponte di S. Antonio, fiume Potenza. In alto montagne del pre-appennino dove ancora oggi si estrae un ottimo calcareo molto indicato per la produzione delle marmette. La presenza di questo minerale determinò, negli anni '50-'60, una notevole concentrazione di fabbriche di marmette nel circondario di San Severino Marche.

San Severino Marche, S. Antonio bridge (Potenza river) Italy.

In the high mountains of the pre-Appennines where excellent limestone ideal for the production of floor tiles is still quarried. The existence of this mineral resulted, in the 1950s-60s, in a large concentration of floor-tile manufacturing facilities in the San Severino Marche area.

Oltre che a caratteristiche estetiche e di durevolezza, la graniglia è un materiale che offre la possibilità di comporre i colori dei decori secondo le proprie esigenze, conferendo a questa materia grande versatilità.
Le due stanze nelle foto, sono realizzate con marmette a finitura anticata; percorrono il tempo e scandiscono le stagioni variando i colori, pur mantenendo gli stessi motivi ornamentali.

Primavera

Besides its aesthetic and durability features, grit is a material that provides the chance to arrange decoration colours according to individual requirements, thereby making this material very versatile.
The two rooms in the photos feature antique-finish floor tiles: through time and seasons, they change in colour, while always maintaining the same ornamental motifs.
